Dear Mr. Umstot:

On behalf of the APWA Awards Committee, I would again like to congratulate you on the Project of the Year award your agency received for the Miramar College Police Station project. Although many public agencies have been operating with limited budgets, infrastructure projects continue to be funded and completed with great success.

This year the Chapter has embarked on a new initiative to select the top projects of all projects recognized at our awards luncheon that best exemplify the 2012 National Public Works theme "Creating a Lasting Impression". It is with great pleasure that we inform you that the Miramar College Police Station project has been selected to receive a "2012 APWA San Diego & Imperial Counties Chapter Project of the Year" award. Your project will also be recommended by the Chapter to the National Awards Program. You will receive details from the chapter on how to apply for the National Awards Program early next year when the nominating period opens.

Only seven Chapter Awards have been selected to receive this new award and will be recognized this year at the chapter's annual Dinner Dance, which will be held on Saturday November 3, 2012. A flyer that provides event details is included with this letter. We encourage you to bring a display board of your project, which will be strategically placed for maximum exposure at the Dinner Dance. Project teams are to supply their own easels. Members of the project team will also be invited on stage to receive the award during the Dinner Dance program.

The cost for dinner at the event for one project representative and one guest are complimentary. You are welcome to invite others to attend the Dinner Dance; however they will be responsible for the cost to attend the event. All those who will be attending the Dinner Dance, even those who will receive complimentary dinners, must RSVP to Kristie Bevacqua using the contact information shown below. Additional awards are available to order and will be distributed after the Dinner Dance has been held. Please see the attached form to order additional awards.

Congratulations on your award and well deserved recognition. If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact Kristie Bevacqua, the Dinner Dance Chair, at (858) 292-7770 or kristieb@nasland.com.

Sincerely,

Tim Gabrielson
